Video Title/Speaker: Mythbusters Idiom Special

Subject summary: We watched a Mythbusters special on Idioms. We watched a video about trying to polish poop, a video about hitting the ground, And ending with a bang. It was an interesting episode.

For trying to polish poop, the Mythbusters, tried to “cook” the poop to remove moisture. They then attempted to use polishing material for furniture. “For hitting the ground running” segment of the episode, the crew decided to suspend a wheeled object in air, hoping when you hit the ground, it will increase the speed (!). For the last portion of the episode, the crew decided it would be best to end the entire episode with a big, large, BOOOOM!

Coollest thing you learned:

Ending the episode with a big bang is the best way to go.
